The Gate

[Spell Card]

The threshold between states of being.
One enters. One exits.
Nothing crosses The Gate unchanged.

The Divide

[Spell Card]

Something is split.
It may be a truth, a world, a people, or yourself.
This is the moment of the fork.
To deny the divide is to become it.

To remain divided
is to serve the fracture.
It breeds rule, fear, and forgetting. Each side defends itself and loses the whole.

To recognize the divide is to hold both without surrender.
It births understanding, choice, and return. The whole is not found by erasing one side, but by seeing through both.

The path is chosen.
The cost is unseen.
The consequences are lived.
So shall the divide be known.

The Auryn

[Spell Card]

The Auryn is the union of opposites.
Light and shadow. Spirit and matter.
Above and below. Self and other.
It does not erase the opposing.
It binds them.
It transforms conflict into becoming.
It is the path of integration.
It is the Work.

To Ignore the Auryn

is to live divided.
To reject what you fear in yourself.
To project what you refuse to face.
The split deepens.
The wound festers.
The soul becomes fragmented.
You seek wholeness outside.
Yet what you deny rules you.

Division is the illusion.
Union is the liberation.

To Embrace the Auryn

is to face both sides.
To accept what you have denied.
To reconcile what you have feared.
The opposites are understood.
The tension becomes power.
The self becomes whole.
You stop seeking completion.
You become the path.

Integration is the wisdom.
Wholeness is the return.

Hold the paradox.
Walk the middle path.
Become the bridge.
Thus is the Auryn known.
